Extraordinary Chaos

Craft, Family, Food, Travel & Interiors

HELLO AND WELCOME TO EXTRAORDINARY CHAOS

My name is Sarah, I'm a craft, travel and lifestyle blogger with a passion for new adventures, craft, travel, food, interiors and fashion.

I have a wonderful husband and two amazing, very active and sporty boys aged 20 and 16 who share this love of life and the new and exciting and a pug called Alf,and Frenchie named Kikki who are the ones in charge around here.

About my blog

I blog about all the things I love in life. Sharing our family trips and days out, theatre, craft, interiors and my favourite food and cocktail recipes.

I have a passion for the new and exciting, theatre and photography. I'm also the co-editor or Cruising For All Cruise Blog, cruising is the other love of my life.

BRANDS I HAVE WORKED WITH

I have been lucky enough to have worked with a large variety of amazing brands such as Walt Disney World, Cricut, Ikos Resorts, Mark Warner, Cricut, Denby, Shloer to name just a few, check out my blog and about me page for more info.

BLOG AUDIENCE

MY MOST FREQUENT VISITORS

My audience is 41% from US followed by 40% in the US and the rest split worldwide, with readers being largely women aged 25-34 being the largest cohort, followed by 35-44. My readers have a real cross section of interests, from food, fashion travel, the arts and crafting.

What Is My Message?

YOU DONT HAVE TO BE AN EXPERT AND ITS OK TO NOT KNOW THE ANSWERS

You don't have to be perfect, an expert, or a size 8. You can just enjoy being you and having a go at something you enjoy. Cooking, crafting and yoga are all about following instructions and enjoying that!

And the best education you can give your children is to learn to cook, be kind and enjoy travel and new experiences.
